

Helena Abreu, Managing Director - ALGAPlus (Portugal)

Area of expertise:

Helena Abreu is the co-founder and managing director of AlgaPlus, a private Portuguese company specialized in land-based commercial cultivation of a variety of seaweed species, product development reaching the B2B (companies & restaurants) et B2C (retail) sectors with different brands, as well as consultancy.

Helena holds a PhD in seaweed physiology and aquaculture and has an extensive research background in the field. Besides her general managing duties, Dr. Abreu manages the external R&D activities of ALGAPlus, interacting with scientific institutions, private companies as well as funding bodies. Commercial seaweed cultivation on land of a variety of species, product development (food), consultancy.

